Angelina Jolie

● Real-life father and daughter Jon Voight and Angelina Jolie will team up in reel life in Tomb Raider.

Oscar-winner Jolie, 25, will play the beautiful, brainy cyber-heroine Lara Croft, a sort-of female Indiana Jones, in the movie inspired by a series of interactive video adventure games.

Her father — an Academy Award winner in his own right — will be cast as Lord Croft, her aristocratic explorer father.

● Latin pop sensation Enrique Iglesias has kicked off the first of his two shows at the packed-out Kremlin ahead of a video shoot with Russian songstress Alsou, second in the recent Eurovision song contest.

"Russia is often spoken of as a cold, intimidating country, but I saw a sunny Moscow full of smiles," the 25-year-old son of international superstar Julio Iglesias said of his first trip to Russia.

"To sing at the Kremlin is amazing."

Enrique Iglesias

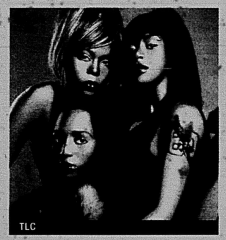
● Tionne "T-Boz" Watkins, a member of the Grammy-winning R&B group TLC, says she won't be touring with the group any more because of health concerns.

Watkins, who is pregnant, has been hospitalised several times for the blood disease sickle cell anaemia.

She made the decision to stop touring after the all-girl group did a pay-per-view special at the end of its last tour.

She went directly from a hospital to the stage and barely got through the performance, she said.

Touring was "not healthy, not good and not smart".



TLC

● Three pages from a cash book showing the Beatles were paid $8 a night for their early dates in Germany in 1961 have sold for a total of $111,625 at an auction at Christie's in London.

The pages, sold separately, related to a gruelling 13-week engagement at the Top Ten Club in Hamburg, the band's second professional stint in Germany.

The Beatles played a staggering 503 hours on stage over 32 nights beginning in April 1961.

U2: under a dull grey sky

VETERAN Irish rockers U2 proved they could still pull a crowd when several thousand people jammed central Dublin to watch their rooftop gig.

Fans, braving the wind and rain, strained for a glimpse of their musical heroes as the band performed a selection of hits from their forthcoming album, All That You Can't Leave Behind.

The gig was performed 30m above street level on top of the band's own Clarence Hotel.

Police struggled to contain the crowd, which spilt into two of Dublin's main roads along the banks of the River Liffey.

A roar erupted as lead singer Bono saluted the onlookers, who could only see the foursome in silhouette, framed against a grey and cloudy skyline.

Look, no hands. Morgan Freeman shows he can do more than act at the San Sebastian Film Festival in Spain.

Their accommodation was thrown in — old army bunk beds in an attic four flights above the club.

● Charlie Sheen says he is enjoying his new life after stepping into Michael J. Fox's squeaky-clean shoes on Spin City.

His colourful character often parodies Sheen's real-life escapades.

"I mean, if I can't laugh at it, I'm missing one of the best jokes of the day," he says.

● Scalpers expecting to make a profit on Barbra Streisand's farewell concerts in New York City have had their fingers burnt.

They got caught with a heap of tickets and had to sell them for less than face value — about half-price in some cases.

● Country music singer Chris LeDoux is suffering from liver disease and needs a transplant.

LeDoux, 51, specialises in songs that celebrate the rodeo and cowboy subculture. He has sold more than five million albums.

Clint Eastwood takes a breather from the court case in which he is being sued by a woman who says the actor's Mission Ranch was not suitable for her wheelchair.

> "She said it: I used to think I was weird. Now I think I'm just interesting — actress Julia Roberts"

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Friday, September 29, 2000: An opportunity that you thought was gone and forgotten returns. Don't make a mistake again. Learn from your experiences and take a leap of faith. Use your talents to gain financially. If single, you might not see a new friend clearly. Listen to others' observations. If attached, you're oblivious to the games a child plays. Also, you might take unnecessary risks. Scorpio helps you make money.

BORN TODAY: Actress Emily Lloyd (1970), TV host Bryant Gumbel (1948), musician Jerry Lee Lewis (1935).

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: ★★★★★ Dynamic; ★★★★ Positive; ★★★ Average; ★★ So-so; ★ Difficult

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) ★★★★

Take charge as others flounder. A reversal involving a child or loved one can be cleared. You just might not see the path. Carefully observe what is happening with a boss or higher-up. Tonight: Clean up your desk.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) ★★★★

Your words spread, but another might also misrepresent them. Make calls and correct an error. Think about what you want, especially with a domestic arrangement. If you're not sure, slow down. Tonight: Take off ASAP.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) ★★★★

Recent professional and emotional gains need to be consolidated. Be direct with associates, and discuss money matters. Confusion surrounds a business plan. Now you can get it straight, if you wish. A co-worker cares a lot more than you realise. Tonight: Take it easy.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) ★★★★★

Someone makes a big effort toward you. Consider what you want to do here. You also might decide to start a diet before the holiday season. Tonight: Out among the crowds.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) ★★★★★

A new flirtation or a loved one reverses course. If single, someone from your past could blast back into your life. Plan to take off soon. Someone in your day-to-day life goes overboard to make your life work. Tonight: Say thank you nicely.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) ★★★★★

Creativity and flirtation mix. Others seek you out. First, decide what you want on the domestic front and then make other decisions. Listen to a loved one who has great ideas. Tonight: Start the weekend right.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) ★★★★

Your family and home life become even higher priorities. Don't undermine yourself with a loved one. Unexpected developments force you to re-evaluate recent purchases or thoughts about a new car or computer. Tonight: Cosy at home.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) ★★★★★

Keep talking. You might not be as sure as you would like to be about a money matter. Seek out answers and look for common ground. Getting enough work done becomes difficult. Screen calls, if need be. Tonight: Out with favourite people.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) ★★★★

Your mood swings. Think carefully about any gains you've had since July. You can count on another but make sure you are clear about a money agreement. What someone says and what you hear could be two different things. Tonight: Your treat.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) ★★★★★

The moon beams you into the limelight. Your perspective changes considerably because of a partner. This person could be a bit sour. Initiate conversations in your unique style. Indulge a family member. Tonight: Play the night away.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) ★★★

Someone changes his/her tune from out of the blue. You might not be sure what to do but keep exploring possibilities. Open up discussions and make it OK to be vulnerable. Confusion and misunderstandings surround feelings. Tonight: Do your thing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) ★★★★★

Focus on your goals, even if you experience an upset professionally. Associates have a lot of suggestions. You might not exactly be sure about the best answer. Use special care with funds. Tonight: Celebrate the weekend.

Welcome wit-a-thon

AN unexpected benefit of Nine lying down in the face of Seven's Olympic Games juggernaut is the return of Frasier. Why bother wasting a high-rating show during these extraordinary times, figures Nine, when a low-rater like Frasier will do just as well?

In fact, Nine is showing so many episodes of this justly acclaimed sitcom about a snobby radio shrink (Kelsey Grammer, left) and his doppelganger brother Niles (the incomparable David Hyde-Pierce) on this final Olympics Saturday that discerning viewers will be jumping — make that pole vaulting Grigorieva-style — over the moon.

While there are lovely moments in all four episodes of this Frasier-a-thon (Saturday, Nine 7.30pm) the best episode is number two, in which a jealous Frasier attempts to prove that an absurdly perfect man is not so perfect after all. It takes the entire show for Frasier to find his rival's Achilles heel (or, more accurately, his Achilles larynx) but it's well worth the wait.

After two weeks of monosyllabic grunting and gushing about Australia's grand Olympic achievement you may just about be ready for this wonderfully welcome marathon of Wildean wit.
